Dear Sir,

We have just received from Paris a fine example of Charles Sprague Pearce's work life size, Picture of a man from Paris as his Salon picture of last year.
Price $2,500 We have had by purchase nearly all Pearce has painted the past two years and this is one of the best if not his very best work. We shall be glad to hear from you if too worth your while considering.

Truly yours

Mr MacLeat;

Sir-

I would like to state regarding the picture I send for examination, that it was painted from an Engraving with such hints as I got by seeing the original in the Corsican Gallery.

Dear Sirs:

We are in receipt of your favor of the 17th and in reply must say that the goods are not yet shipped, we expecting a remittance.

It is customary when shipping goods in bond to await remittance as in the event of the consignee declining to accept the goods for any reason, the shippers have no redress whatever, losing all control of the goods, the Secretary having decided that goods shipped in bond are at the disposal of the consignee and not the shippers, and in the event of the consignee declining to accept the goods they will be sold by the Customs authorities in charge of them.

As our experience has in matters like the above been somewhat bitter, you will kindly excuse the necessity of our awaiting remittance.

Very truly yours
Hensel Bruckmann & Lorbacher

Dear Sirs
your favour of the 21st 24th and telegram of today also your check for 578.33 are received.

We enclose duplicate receipted bill as requested.
We delayed replying to your favour of the 21st expecting every day to advise you of the shipment of the goods but have not yet been able to do so.

The goods being so heavy will have to be carted on a windlass truck and there are to the best of our knowledge only two such available trucks in the city, we have however secured one for tomorrow and the goods will then go forward.
Kindly excuse the unavoidable delay.
